International Benefits Network (IBN) adds NFP to its network

The International Benefits Network (IBN), the global network of independent employee benefits consulting firms that provides access to the latest expertise and promotes global standards in employee benefits, is pleased to announce that NFP has joined as a new member of the international network.

Headquartered in New York, NFP is a leading insurance broker and consultant that provides property and casualty (P&C), corporate benefits, retirement, and individual solutions. The company provides employee benefits expertise to global and domestic employers of all sizes and across industries, delivering strategic insight and solutions that enhance the recruiting and retention of employees, overall company culture, and organizational growth and success. NFP is the 6th largest US-based, privately owned broker (source: Business Insurance: based on 2019 revenue).

Matt Pawley, SVP International Benefits Consulting for NFP added, "NFP is pleased to join IBN at an exciting period of growth for both NFP and the network. NFP's focus is on delivering specialised expertise and high-quality service to our clients wherever they are located. Being part of IBN will enable us to share our knowledge of risk mitigation, benefits experience and understanding of the dynamic needs of clients around the globe, while elevating the value we offer to our clients."

Tatiana Akl, Chairperson of International Benefits Network (IBN) commented that "IBN is delighted to welcome NFP, our newest member. The IBN network is expanding and allowing employee benefits experts engagement across the globe for flexible, secure, diverse, and compliant solutions. We are confident that our growth will offer additional opportunities and rewarding schemes for our international clients."
